AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

Mr. Charles Stephenson, a well-known Highway Employee at Kalapoi, New Zealand, writes:

"About ten years ago, while engaged in shunting, my foot caught between the rails, and my leg was fractured below the knee. It healed in time, but I have been troubled ever since by rheumatism and have been obliged, at times, to wear a bandage. About a year ago it became much worse, and I feared I should be obliged to give up my work. A friend advised me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I did so, and after taking four bottles the swelling disappeared, and I have not been troubled with it since."

Arguments of Judge Advocate Kinney and attorney Robertson—Speculation as to the result.

Delegates Feb. 1st is welcomed home
and gives an elaborate report from the High Court.

Judge Hardy's verdict confirmed
—Decree of a Horse disputed —Juvenile witness.

Much time at last night's session of the court martial was occupied with the cross-examination of Captain Good by Judge Advocate Kinney, but very little new matter was brought out. The relations of the defendant with H. C. Rhodes and Col. Super were minutely gone into, as was the testimony given by Captain Good before the Court of Inquiry held about the missing sight.

H. G. Rhodes was recalled for further testimony. Said he had been in the grounds of the Executive building of the capital during the month of June, after he abstracted the sight, and offered to demonstrate how he took the breech block out of the gun and put it in again.

His offer being accepted the court proceeded to the gun shed, where Mr. Rhodes removed the block, but after trying for several minutes to put it back again was unsuccessful. He demonstrated his expertise at removing sights by removing and replacing one from one of the guns in one minute and from another in a minute and a half.

After returning to the courtroom a few more questions were put to Mr. Rhodes and the case closed.

Attorney Robertson made the first argument for the defense, devoting the first portion of it to the law of the case as laid down by military authorities, claiming that were the first five specifications admitted to be true they could not be construed into conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman. The latter portion of the argument was devoted to specifications 6 and 7, relating to the missing sight.

Judge Advocate Kinney followed for the prosecution and argued that the evidence abundantly supported the charges, incidentally paying his respects to the witness Rhoult and others who testified for the defense.

Mr. Robertson closed by calling the attention of the court to the weak places in the Judge Advocate's argument and the case came to an end as far as possible proceedings concerned.

It was after midnight when the room was cleared and the court commenced its deliberations. The findings will not be made public until after their approval by the commander-in-chief. There is much speculation as to the result.

The Court was only in secret session last night long enough to postpone further consideration of the case until Saturday night at 7:30, by which time the evidence will have been transcribed from the shorthand notes.

American League.

The election of officers at the meeting of the American League last night resulted as follows: T. B. Murray, president; Wm. Larson, first vice-president; Clarence Crambe, second vice-president; W. D. Hamilton, recording secretary; Mark Kennedy, financial secretary; trustees, J. J. Delany, Captain Wilson, W. L. Bowers; treasurer, George Hawkins. The new officers will be installed on Tuesday, August 10th.

More Immigrants Coming.

By the Pacific Mail Steamship Peru, due here on Saturday, 275 more Chinese contract laborers are expected. This is the first lot shipped under the auspices of the Pacific Immigration Company of Honolulu, which is represented in the Orient by Thomas Evans.

Mr. Arthur Johnstone, microscopist of Honolulu has received an expert opinion of the highest value upon the cholera bacilli slides he made, with the assistance of Dr. Day, at the time of the epidemic here last year. It was previously reported that Dr. Beiggs of New York had given his opinion, on examination of the same cultures, that the disease from which they were derived was Asiatic cholera. As opinions were persistently given out here that the epidemic was due to the cholera. Dr. Johnstone, in his opinion, states that the slides sent to Vienna for examination and report. Accordingly Mr. Johnstone forwarded them to Mr. Beelert, the agent who supplies him with microscopic instruments, with a request that he have them submitted to a recognized bacteriologist in Vienna for examination.

Last month Mr. Johnstone received a reply from his correspondent, enclosing a report which is printed herewith from Prof. Weichselbaum. Mr. Reichert in his letter says that this professor is the most eminent bacteriologist in Vienna. Following is his report to Mr. Reichert, translated by Mr. J. F. Hackfeld, Austrian Consul:

(Translation)

VIENNA, April 30, 1896.
Mr. REICHERT, Vienna.

The preparations from Honolulu (which are, however, in damaged condition) handed to me, for the purpose of giving my opinion on some slides which, according to appearance, size and arrangement conform entirely with the typical Vibrio cholerae (Koch), so that considering especially the preparations from the stool genuine cholera can be accepted with the greatest probability. An absolutely correct diagnosis can, however, not be made from the glass slide preparations.

With my highest regard,
(Sgd.) Prof. WEICHSELBAUM.

With reference to the statement about the slides being damaged, Mr. Johnstone explains that the condition was due to the breaking of cover glasses in previous examinations, as they are the same slides that were examined by Dr. Beiggs in New York.

BAD RUNAWAY.

Occurs on Nuuanu Street and has Disastrous Results.

A moment of misplaced confidence, on the part of Charles Ach's man, has caused Charles to mourn the loss of his new brake and horse, which he purchased from Larry Day a few days since. About 10:30 this morning, the driver left the horse standing on Nuuanu street untied, while he went to see a man. The horse promptly took advantage of this state of affairs to dash headlong down the street, smashing the brake and injuring himself to such an extent that he will probably have to be shot. The brake was taken to T. B. Murray's for repairs.

Promine Performer.

August Wiegand, the noted organist at the Sydney Town Hall, who will pass through Honolulu in a couple of months and may give a concert here, has played 3433 new compositions in the past five years. He seldom plays the same piece twice in public,

The cane is a highly polished one of kou wood headed with a boar's tusk heavily mounted in gold. It bears the following inscription: "Presented to Dr. D. McLennan by members of Camoes Lodge, No. 8110, A. O. F., Honolulu, July 28th, 1895." The doctor replied in feeling terms, thanking his brethren for their beautiful token of regard.

Dr. McLennan's place as court physician will be hard to fill. Not only by the most assiduous attention to sick members, but by acts of charity outside a doctor's role, has he endeared himself to the members of the court.

After the presentation, remarks were made by Mr. Eckardt, Dr. Alvarez and Walter Lee. Mr. Eckardt also presented a voluminous report as a delegate to the High Court, and, from his increased knowledge, there gained suggested many important changes in the work. The proceedings in the lodgeroom being concluded, the members repaired to the anteroom, where, for a session, the good cheer there provided was discussed. Music by a quintette club enlivened the proceedings.

An item in last night's Star stating that the Custom House had a ton which engaged any other department of the government for a match about is entirely incorrect. An inspector of the customs force said today that the man had thought of picking out a match team, but having there was but a half dozen amongst them that could make a decent score, they gave up the idea.
